This Company has steadily pursued two great practical ends: FIRST.

To place its policies beyond the power of adverse contingencies.

SECOND

To reduce the actual outlay of its members for their policies to the lowest possible rate. To accomplish this, it allows him to rate. To accomplish this, it allows him to retain from 20 to 30 per cent, of the first premium as a permanent credit or loan, and to retain from each subsequent premium that portion of the previous year's full premium actually proved to be surplus; so that at no time does the Company take from him a higher actual premium than is needed to carry the risk for the year, and provide the reinsurance fund. It is strictly Mutual. Nothing is diverted to stockholders, and each member has his insurance at its exact cost to the Company. Its rate of expense has been from the beginning less than that of other companies.

that Northern Companies do, with the great additional consideration that the capital is kept within the State, and, therefore, helps to build up and foster Home Institutions. Another importan tfact to be considered is, that the Wilmington Live has thus far tained A VERY MUCH LARGER INTEREST of the money invested at home, than any their investments, according to their sworn tatements before the Commissioner of that State.

These unquestionable facts should commend this company, above all others, to our people. Let it be born in mind that millions of dollars received for Life preminims of donars received for Life premiums have been sent North since the war, which at once drains the south and enriches the pethoric capitalists of the North. If there was no other consideration, safety, fairness and cheapness being equal, why North Carolinians should INSURE AT HOME.

THE WILMINGTON LIFE

has excellent special features.
It places no restriction on Residence or Traver; it makes no extra charge for Female risks; and its Policies are inclutes table after rive Years. Its business is managed economically, Its risks are taken with equal caution. Its investments are made judiciously.

the committing magistrate: "Rachel Whitaker, col , was arraigned yesterday afternoon before D. A. Wicker. J. P., on the charge of setting fire to, the house of one Richard Wood, col., who lives near the Rock Quarry. It seems that Richard was aroused from his slumbers early yesterday morning, about the hour of 4, by the roar of flames near his bed. Jumping up and running out, he found the end of his house near the chimney, on fire, and saw and recognized Rachel as she was retreating from the spot. She had brought a lot of kindling wood and piling it against the end of the house set fire to it. Richard succeded in extinguishing the flames after a considerable hole had been burnt in the end of his house. The day previous, Wood had come upon Rachel just as she had of his house, preparatory to entering and helping herself, and had caused her arrest, but she was discharged for some lack of evidence, and this attempt at arson was to "revenge herself. Squire Wicker sent Rachel to jail, as the offence is not a bailable one." Messrs. Wm. W. Jones and W. H. Pace appeared for the detence and Solicitor Cox and F. H. Basbee prosecu ted on behalf the State. At this hour (5 p. m.) the jury has returned no lish the tollowing brief statement for the information of the public:

The Constitution, Article IX, Section provides that "each county of the State shall be divided into a convenient number of districts, in which one or more public schools shall be maintained at least four months in every year; and it the county commissioners of any county shall fail to comply with the aforesaid requirements of this section, they shall be liable to indictment."

To carry out this provision the last Legislature in the school bill enacted-" Section 37. In addition to the State and county capitation taxes appropriated by the Constitution and other revenues heretofore provided by law for the support of public schools, there shall be levied and collected every year for the support and maintenance of public schools, eight and one-third cents on every hundred dollars' worth of property and credits in the State and twenty-five cents on every poll in addition to taxes in the revenue law.

more schools in each township for the period of four months, then the county commissioners of each county may levy annually a special tax to supply the deficiency for the support, and maintenance of said schools for the period of four months. The said tax shall be colected by the sheriff in money, and he hall be subject to the same liabilities tor the collection and accounting for said tax as he is or may be by law in regard to other county taxes. 'The said tax shall be levied on all property, credits and polls of the county, and in the assessment of the amount upon each, the commissioners shall observe and the fund thus raised shall be appropriated in the county in which it is collected as provided in section thirty-one of this act : Provided, That the question of the levy and collection of said tax shall have first been submitted to the vote of the qualfied voters of the county at an election to be held at the different election precints of the county, under rules and regulations to be fixed by the commissioners and conforming as near as may be to the rules and regulations for conducting other elections, except that no new registration need be made, but the registration books of the next preceding general election may be used. The penalties for illegal and traudulent voting shall be the same as provided in annual elections." It is further provided in the said act, that of the funds so collected a part may be used to pay for half the costs of repairing, building and furnishing school houses, and the whole cost of purehasing school house sites. The sources of the school fund, provided by the State, are therefore, first, the share of the income of the permanent fund which the Treasurer of the State may allot to this county. Second. Seventy-five per cent. of all taxes levied upon the poll, and three-eight and one third cents upon every one hundred dollars of property and credit. These amounts are to be used for school purposes every year, whatever may be the vote of the county on the question to be submitted on the 24th of April. Now if these sources shall be sufficient to provide for schools in each school district for four months in each year. pay for half the costs of building and repairing school houses, and the whole cost of school house sites-then no other tax will be levied, however the people vote on the 24th of April. But if they are not sufficient in amount for all these purposes, and the people vote to levy a tax-then the county commissioners must aid to the assessment of the taxes a sum sufficient to make up the deficiency.

If the people vote against the levy of tax, then the only sources for schools purposes will be those mentioned above. provided by the State.

So that those who vote for school tax, vote that the county commissioners shall add to the assessment a sum sufficent to supply the deficiency, if any exists-and those who vote against the school tax, vote to have no other fund for school purposes than that provided by the State,

NOTICE TO DISSOLVE THE INJUNCTION. -Judge Albertson will this morning at 9 o'clock, at Chambers at the Court House in this city, hear the argument in the case of the State vs. R. & D. The case is one of much importance to the roads and to the State.

MASTERLY INACTIVITY .- The manner in which our "City Fathers" (how lamentable to be the sons of such sires) are proceeding with the culvert on South street, east of Blount. It is years past, we claim nothing more than believed it will be finished in ten years from the time it was commenced, which was one year ago, unless some unlucky freshet shall wash it away, which, it is feared, is not improbable. Much has been said against the present Board of Commissioners, and with great injustice, and we mention the faithful and energetic manner in which they have pushed this work, to show how unjustly creeting the new buildings. We are they have been abused. Municipalities as well as "Republics are ungrateful."

SIR :- The attention of the Chamber of Commerce having been called to a plan proposed for collecting, classifying, analyzing and describing the iron ores of the several States and territories of the United States, with the view of preparing and presenting the results at the Centennial axhibition to be held in Philadelphia in 1876, and this Chamber being unanimously of the opinion that such a plan if properly carried out will be incalculable advantage to the whole country and particularly so to the State of North Carlina, in bringing her immense and valuable deposits of iron ore to the knowledge and attention of the world; therefore, Resolved, That we respectfully and earnestly recommend to his Excellency to take such steps, as in his judgment he may deem best, to co-operate act for the support of the public schools shall be insufficient to maintain one or procured and prepared for said exhibition in such manner as will ensure a full and proper understanding of their extent and value. Resolved, That a copy of the foregoing resolution to be sent to Hon. Daniel J. Morrell, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the United States Centennial Exhibition, and that he be requested to correspond with yourself, and furnish you with full details of the proposed plan. The above being a true copy from the minutes of the meeting I have been ordered to forward you.

Very respectfully, RICHARD W. ANDREWS, Secretary of Chamber of Commerce. The communication was referred by the Governor to Prof. W. C. Kerr, State Geologist.

FASHION GLEANINGS .- For the benefit of our lady readers, we surrender space for the publication of the following brief fashion notes . Yah lace, of a soft, creamy white ular. It has become tashionable on silk costumes to face the trimmings and line the sashes and bows with a strongly contrasting color.

When puffings are adopted they are generally placed in perpendicular lines upon the front gore of the underskirt, or about the overskirt. Swinging cords and tassels are popular for all kinds of dresses, and add elegance to otherwise elegant costumes. The variations in dress materials seem to be of little consequence compared with the colors and tints of prevailing

All the various metalic colors, rather than foilage and blossom colors, will prevail this year. Bronze browns, copper browns, silver greys, iron greys, Imalachite greens, browns, cairngorm yellow, etc., prevail to the conclusion of most of the old favorites. Foulards and percales, with Persian borderings for ruffles and bands, are choice and artistic. Coutille, once used only for corsets, is to be used as dress goods.

Black grenadines for full dress are to be found embroidered in patterns of leaves and flowers for skirt borders and other trimmings.

Roses, lilies, poppies, and especially marguerites, are elegant upon black, and the goods are made into overdresses to be worn over black silk skirts, whose sombre folds cause the embroideries to be all the more effective. Satin striped grenadines, in combinations of worsted and silk, will be popular for over-dress. Colored silk costumes trimmed with plaited or ruffled grenadines, gauzes and crapes of the same shade are noticed among the spring importations. Piques are softer and prettier than ever; some are plnin, and some embroidered with Hamburg work, in clusters of leaves and in borderings. Some of the new prints are very curious; bugs, bees, birds, and small reptiles are not uncommon ornaments upon pale buff or tea colored fabrics. I. O. O. F .- The Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd-Fellows of this State, will assemble in regular session in this city, on Wednesday, the 14th day of May. The session is looked forward to by the membership, as one of unusual interest. The Order is a growing one, and has recently, in the last few years since the war, in this jurisdiction, and especially in Raleigh, made rapid advances.

The Railroads will, as usual, give return tickets for one fare to members of the Order attending the session, and distinguished brethren from other jurisdictions are expected to be present and deliver addresses and instruct the membership in the Secret Work. Among the brethren promised to be present, is Past Grand Master Wm. H. Barnes, of New York, editor of the Heart and Hand. an Odd-Fellow, renowned alike as an editor and lecturer.

The People's Stamp of Value.—The Government indorsement, which legalizes the sale of Plantation Bitters, is not the only stamp affixed to that famous Vegetable Tonic. It bears, in addition to that official sanction, the still more, valuable stamp of public approbation. This inestimable voucher of its rare properties as a Tonic, Corrective and Alterative, is of much earlier date than the Government credential; for millions of sick persons had pronounced it the Grand Specific of the Age long before Congress thought of taxing propietary medicines. It is unnecessary to repeat, in detail, the proprieties of this wonderful Vegetable Invigorant. The best reference that can be offered to those who desire the full particulars of its virtues, is the General Public. ...APRIL 17, 1873. THE WAR IN LOUISIANA-THE ADMINISTRATION RESPONSI

And Our Our Oh Wh

On yesterday, in an editorial headed -" Fruits of Radicalism-Anarchy in Louisiana," we denounced the policy pursued by the Administration towards the people of that State, and referred to the prostrating effect upon their industrial interests which the Kellogg-Pinchback anarchy was producing throughout the State. In the course of our comments we referred to the critical situation of affairs and the bitter feelings between the two political parties, and expressed the opinion that collisions were imminent in some of the parishes.

Scarcely had the ink dried upon the paper on which we wrote the editorial above referred to before our midnight dispatches came to hand-giving an account of a bloody fight between the whites and biacks at Colfax, Grant parish, Louisiana, in which a large number of persons were killed.

From the telegrams, it seems that the negroes of Grant parish, to the number of four hundred, organized themselves into an armed force, and took possession of the town of Colfaxthe county seat of Grant parish. They barricaded themselves in the Court House, and were the complete masters of the situation until a number of white men, consisting of about one hundred and fifty, collected from the adjoining parishes, and resolved to attack the armed insurgents and drive them from their place of refuge.

After severe fighting, the negroes displayed a flag of truce from the Court House and as the whites advanced, a murderous fire was unexpectedly opened upon them by the insurgents. Captain Hardnell was dangerously wounded, and the whites fell back inside of the breast works. It was then resolved by them to fire the Court House as the only means by which the negroes could be dislodged. A number of them were shot as they rushed from the burning building. It is reported that between eighty and a hundred were killed in this are not very definite and we will probably get full accounts of the casualties in a day or two.

In order to understand the cause of rence, which has resulted so 'atally to the colored men, it is necessary to refer to the disturbances which have been brewing in Grant parish for several according to circumstances

A degraded white Radical by the name of Calhoun, has been instrumental in stirring up strife between the two races in his parish. Mean white men are generally at the bottom of all such rows as that which has recently disadvice of Calhoun and others, the negroes determined that they would regulate matters according to their own idea of law and justice, and being encouraged and aided by a few despicable white men, they formed themselves into vigilance committees and military or ganizations. For the past two weeks. they have been committing outrages alter outrages upon their white fellow citizens-by threats and violence driv ing them out of Colfax-and then breaking open their houses and stealing their property. As they largely outnumbered the whites, they met with but little opposition, and have carried or with such a high hand, that the town was nearly depopulated of white people when the bloody fight of Tuesday occurred. We copy from a New Orleans paper of the 7th inst., the following statement of outrages-showing the lawless

"On Tuesday evening last, Judge Ru:land, of Colfax, Grant parish, was accosted by a large mob of armed negroes, headed by one Flowers, a member of the Legislature, and the mob ordered Jugde Rutland to leave the parish of Grant. He was given fifteen minutes to make his start, under the penalty of being

During the night the mob were velling and shouting all around. In the village they fired in the house of Mr.

Richardson, endangering his life and the lives of his family. On Wednesday morning the mob ordered Mr. Richardson to leave within ville. ten minutes. He obeyed, and he and family crossed to the east side of the river. As soon as they wery gone their house was broken open and robbed of its contents.

Another house was also broken open and robbed by the mob on Wednesday, During the nights of Wednesday and Thursday guns were firing for several miles around the town by the negroes. killing the cattle and hogs of the

On Friday Butler, a treedman, who is a merchant and bears a reputation above repreach, called on Register, the parish Judge, to take measures to stop this rapine and outrage, and he declined to interfere in any way; whereupon Butler tried all his power of persuasion to resolved to do something for their own stop their unlawful outrages, and the protection. They united in a petition

There was no white person seen at Colfax as the Marie Louise passed. A great many negroes, all armed with guns and six-shooters, were on the bank, and appeared in defiant and insolent at-night, the whites, it was understood, being in the neighborhood. The Marie Louise brought several families from below Colfax to Alexandria, who were fleeing for safety. Upon particular inquiry we learned that there was no contest for office in that parish, and the Republicans were peaceably and without dispute in the possession of the offices claimed by Atter reading this recital of crime and violence, the public will no lorger be astonished at the fatal consequences that have overtaken the blacks. While their conduct is without excuse or palliation, and reprehensible in the highest degree for its fiendishness and atrocity, yet the white miscreants who have hounded them on in their work of less mercy than their wicked agents. The public will hold President Grant's Administration responsible for the deplorable condition of affairs in Louisiana. The policy which he has pursued there is bearing its legitimate truits of bloodshed and outrage. The support which the Government has accorded to the negro Pinchback will embolden and disorders. At the door of the President of the United States must be laid all the troubles that shall result from the anarchy now prevailing in Louisiana.

CUBA RESOLUTE.

The Cuban patriots are much encouraged by the troubles which environ the Spanish Republic. They will not be reconciled now except on the basis of Cuba's independence. They have no faith in the permanency of the new govs ernment in Spain. Cespedes talks bravely. He says the war for Cuban liberty must be prosecuted until the insurgents are all killed or the final victo ry gained.

Spain has her hands quite full in maintaining peace at home by suppressing the Carlist insurrections. Cuba's golden opportunity will probably come way. Several white men were wounded at an early day-when the disorders in -but the particulars thus far received the new Republic at Madrid reach their and fired at Lieutenant Boutelle,

THE MODUCS.

The dispatches to-day contain no exciting news from the Modoc camp.

Lieutenant Sherwood of the Federal army, who was wounded in an attack and atrocious conduct of the negroes; by the Modocs on the picket lines the evening of Gen. Canby's murder, has since died. During that attack one Modoc was killed. Our midnight dispatches may give later intelligence from the Modoc camp.

[From the Philadelphia Press. A History of the Modoc Trouble. The Modec Indians, a tribe of which but a remnant remains, have for years been a source of uneasiness to the set tlers in Southern Oregon. Their camp, before the retreat to the lava beds, was at the mouth of Lost rever, where it open by the mob, his furniture broken empties into the Tuie or Rhett Lake, of flor 2. Then she waited the approach and they got their living by hunting and fishing, and ofttimes by stealing from the settlers when they got a good chance. During last summer the country about Rhett and Klamatin Lakes and on the banks of Lost river was largely settled by people mostly from the neighborhood of Eugene and Jack-

Three or four battles intendent laid the petition before the Commissioner of Indian Affairs in Washington. That officer at once ordered that the Modocs be placed on their reservation, peaceably if possible, but forcibly if necessary. To this point Superintendent Odeneal now repaired, and requested Major Jackson's aid in carrying out his order. He placed the order in the Major's hands, and stipulated that it should be carried out without bloodshed, it possible, and that force sufficient to overawe the savages should be used. But the courage and disposition of Captain Jack's band seems to have been underrated, for Major Jackson started out with only thirty-five cavalry to effect the object desired. The Indians then numbered one hundred, and it was folly to believe that they would allow thirty five cavalterror and lawlessness, are deserving of rymen to frighten them into submission. SURROUNDING THE BAND IN THEIR CAMP.

On Thanksgiving Day, 1872, Major Jackson's command accompanied by

Ivan Applegate, a settler at Clear Lake, and James Brown, messenger of the Indian Department, arrived at the Indian camp at the mouth of Lost river. They arrived there at early dawn, and quietly surrounded the camps on either side of license the commission of crimes and the river, Major Jackson taking the side on which was located Captain Jack's cabin, and Applegate, with ten or twelve citizens, taking the other side, where about half of the warriors had

THE FIRST BATTLE. When all was ready the presence of the military was made known, and instantly the camp became a scene of confusion, Indians ran hither and thither, seized their guns and huidled together in a sullen manner, apparently ready to flee at a moment's notice. Major Jackson asked if any of the Indians spoke English. Scarfaced Charley came for ward, gun in hand, and said angrily that he did. Major Jackson then explained to Charley the nature of the order from Washington, and requested the Modocs to go to the reservation quietly. Charley interpreted to Capt. lack and the other Indians, all of whom shook their heads and turned their backs in token of unqualified refusal to obey the order. While Major Jackson was deliberating what to do, Scartaced Charley suddenly seized his gun who stood in front of his men. This, of course, was the signal for battle. Lieut. Bonteila promptly returned the fire, and the fight at once became general. The officers and men stood their ground well and fought bravely, out they were largely outnumbered by ing resolution was adopted by the Executive Committee, at a meeting held on Thurs-day, April 10th, 1873: the Indians, who had also an advantage on with the troops, Applegate and tary be instructed to proceed without de-lay, to collect the first installment of the amount subscribed by the citizens of Raiegh and others, and place the funds in Brown, with the settlers on the opposite side of the river, took several guns away the Treasury.

In accordance with instructions, the names and amounts have been verified, and receipts prepared for each subscriber. I shall be pleased to wait on contributors from the Indians on their side, but when the firing began the battle opened here too. Three or four Indians were killed and one citizen-John Thurbur, a settler, who had joined the party. Major Jackson's command suffered quite severely, one soldier being killed, and four wounded-two of them mortally.

FLIGHT OF THE REDS. Seeing that the Indians were too strong to be disledged or subdued with the force at his command, Major Jackson withdrew the troops to the other side of the river to care for his wounded The Indians who had been fighting the Brown-Applegate party fled across the river, and joined their band under Capt. Jack, and as Major Jackson had already crossed to join Brown and Applegate, the two forces eyed each other from the opposite banks of the river all night ong. So far the Indians had the best of it, but towards morning of the 20th they deserted their camp, leaving their women and children at the mercy of the military, who at once crossed over and took them prisoners. THE BROTHERTON MASSACRE. On the way they overtook William Brotherton and his two sons, aged re spectively eleven and twenty two years. They had been in the woods for a load of fuel, and were then approaching the ranche on their return, with two four horse teams. The Indians, under command of Scar faced Charley, at once stopped the teams, and shot down the elder Brotherton as he sat on the wagon. The two boys tried to run, but were killed before they had gone fifty yards. The Indians then unhitched the eight horses, mounted them, and started for the house, where they doubtless intended the murder of the rest of the Broths erton lamily -the mother and two young sons. Here they met the first check. The plucky woman, suspecting that comething was wrong from the fact that they were mounted on her husband's horses, resolved to sell her life dearly. She had three rifles in the house, and putting one in the hands of each of her sons, she locked the door and built a barricade behind the windows of sacks of the Indians. They soon came up and demanded admittance,-The brave woman's unswer was a rifle bullet, which she sent crashing through the skull of one of the savages. The boys also began firing, and the Indians, taking shelter in some trees, returned the fire vigorously, but without doing any damage. The woman and her two sons kept up the battle. And it was not long before another Indian was docs, in their camp at the mouth of killed. For two days the daring woman kept watch, rifle in hand, but the Indians did not renew the a'-

The last attack was made by Col. Gillem, commanding a force of three hundred men, some six weeks since. The nature of the country was evidently unknown to the commanding officers, for with this small number they undertook to storm the Indians stronghold, meeting with a sharp defeat. Thereafter it was resolved to push forward the means for attaining peace upon a double basis. Three hundred meant, refused to meet him, and set his additional troops, under Gen. Canby, were hurried torward to punish the Indians, and a full peace commission was organized to pacify them. In the meantime the Indians made a rally, but were repulsed. Before the troops moved again the negotiations were opened. Arrangements were speedily made for a surrender, in which the Indians were to be protected from the enraged Oregonians and transported to some reservation. A day was appointed and agreed to for the surrender to take place. Wagons were sent by the Commissioners to convey Captain Jack's baggage over the rough ground; but no signs of the Indians were discoverable. Days passed, and at length an Indian appeared who complained that Captain Jack and his fellows were fearful of the troops, and that they wanted to go to their old Lost river reservation. The troops under General Canby now moved forward again, and commenced to encircle the savages in their fortress. The circle was drawn gradually closer, and the In hans again professed a desire for peace conferences. They saw the troops drawing closer and closer, and now set up a new demand. They objected altogether to leaving the lava beds, and wanted the troops sent away. Notwithstanding this preposterous demand, the peace commissioners listened to the palayer of the braves. Several interviews took place. The story of the last one is told in this morning's despatches from the lava bed

Judge Clarke informed us, says the Newbern Times of the 15th inst., that an alligator Ili feet in length was killed last week near Jacksonville, by Mr. Jasper Etle idge. The amphibious repule had taken one of Mr. Etheridge's valuable hounds for a repast and soon after came ashore to sun himself and digest the dog, whereupon Mr. E. took advantage of the situation and slayed him with powder and lead.

We learn, says the Wilmington Journyoung man by the name of D. D. Livingston, that occurred at Old Hundred, in Richmond county, on Sunday last. It seems that a desperate character by returned to the county from a lengthen- ing. Coroner Albright was notified of some cause for animosity to Mr. Living evening, and has not returned yet; but gaged in the merchandizing and tur- that the beating he received previously, Sunday, Seales, accompanied by several probably have a hanging here some day other desperate characters, went to Mr. hence. Livingston's house and called him out in the yard, where they shot some seven or eight pistol balls in his body. They then left and have not yet been apprehended. Mr. Liv ngton was not dead yesterday as the train passed that point, but it was leared that his injuries were mortal. The best medical attendance had been given him and everything possible is being done.

---[Correspondence Daily News. In and Around Greensboro, N. C. GREEN-BORO, April 16, 1873.

Messrs. Editors : - Last Thursday the constable arrested a negro for playing his banjo, and drawing a crowd who obstructed the side walk. He was taken to the Mayors' office, where he received a good lecture from our worthy Mayor, who warned him to keep his listeners off the sidewalks. During the Mayors' talk "Long Perry," the man whom George Arnold, another negro, but more of a white man than his "Long Perry," cursed out to his face some months ago in front wo the Assessor's office, and called him all manner of degrading names mentioned in Webster and Worcester's Dictionaries and epithets not to be found in any dictionary, came up and disputed the charge brought against the negro by the constable. The Mayor politely informed "Lo g Perry, they nor any one else would be allowed FRESH COCOANUT CANDY, to prevent the citizens passing on the sidewalks by drawing crowds or any "Long Perry," who looks other way. more like a babboon than a white man, slipped a five dollar bill in the negro's hand and stalked off. Y THEBEST SOLUBLE SEA ISLAND GUANO!

State fair Crombings at Wilmington for the Largest Amount of Cotton to an Acre, GOLDSBORO, Wayne County, N. C., November 23rd, 1872.

JOHN H. POWELL, F.SQ.:

DEAR STR—The Solv de Sea Island Guano purchased of you this season was used by the side of three others, and has given me more satisfaction than any of the others. The Soluble Sea Island Guano was the one used upon the acre of land upon which my son raised the cotton upon which he took his State premium for the greatest amount of cotton to an acre; and I am informed by the Chairman of the Committee that had he entered for the largest amount of cotton to the acre, premium open to aff ages, he would have also taken that premium, beating all 150 bbs. I am better pleased with it than any other Guano I have ever used on cotton, and I shall use It in preference to others next season for my cotton crop.

T. A. GRANGER.

ALSO EIGHT PREMIUMS AT WAYNE COUNTY FAIR.

The Amount of Seed Cotton made on an Acre of Upland by Mr. Granger was Three Thousand Six Hundred and Thirty-three Pounds.

EDGECOMBE COUNTY, N. C., December 12th, 1872.

Messrs. R. W. L. RAISIN & Co., Paltimore:

I bought of Messrs. Branch, Herbeit & Co., 1ast Spring, one ton of your Soluble Sea Island Guano for myself and three tons for other parties, and find them all well pleased with it, and say it is the best Guano, and paid them better than any they ever used. The ton I used myself was put in cotton by the side of two other guanos, and I am willing to say that I should buy the Sociable Sea Island Guano in preference to any that I have used since the war.

Very respectfully, Very respectfully,

> That President Grant at protent SELMA, N. C., November 12th, 1872.

W. H. AVERA, Esq.:

DEAR SIR—The ten bags Soluble Sea Island Guano more than met my expectations
I consider it equal to Peruvian for cotton. It paid me over 100 per cent. It more than doubled the crop. My neighbors who bought it are highly pleased, and will use it in preference to any other when it can be had. Hope you will keep a supply the coming

YANCEYVILLE Caswell County, N. C. December 6th, 1872. Captain W. P. ROBINSON,

DEAR SIR—In reply to your inquiry as to how I liked the Sea Island Guano I got of you, I wish to say that I applied it, 200 pounds to the acre, alongside of Peruvian, Pacific Guano and Gilham's Tobacco Fertilizer in equal quantities; it stands the drouth better than either of the above fertilizers. It matured better on the hill and cured oetter and more yellow than either of the other fertilizers used. I think it is a splendid fertilizer and I expect to use it next season.

Yours, respectfully,

MARCELLUS MIMMS.

GENTS—I used this season, on my cotton crops about 15 tons of your Soluble Sea Island Guano, testing it by the side of Guanape and Vegitator, and up to the time of the heavy washing rains last of June, I was equally pleased with its action as of the Guanape and better pleased than with the Vegitator. That President Grant at present really thinks of trying for a third term, is what we should not feel at liberty positively to assert; but nobody knows what may happen, if his friends put it into his head. Away down in Missisippi, and in the capital of that State, we find Senator Alcorn openly declaring that he was "for Grant for a third term ' It is intimated that this was merely for "buncome," and intended to head off Senator Ames in the Presidential estimation. "There is a chance" says The Meridian Mercury "for Ames to see that and go Alcorn a pile better; let him announce himself for Grant for President during good behaviour."
